

Center for the Arts Renovations

Jendoco Construction Corporation was selected for the remodeling for the Pittsburgh Center for the Arts.

Renovation and work included a new dance studio, exhibit space, main lobby, artist work area and kiln room. Renovations of the existing school building were also included in the scope of work. All work had to be performed while keeping the center open for business and artist use. This required extensive coordination between the programs that the Center for the Arts was scheduling and Jendoco Construction Corporation's work schedule.

All work was completed within a twelve (12) month time frame and was within budget.
