

Church of Ascension Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Jendoco Construction Corporation negotiated with the Church of Ascension for the Renovations of the existing Parish Hall and the Two-Story addition of an Educational Wing.

This project was estimated at $2.5 Million and was completed in September 2001. The addition is connected to the existing Building by a glass walled hallway as well as a basement level hallway to the old catacombs. In the old building there is additional office and meeting room space.

The 4,700 square foot renovation of the Parish Hall consisted of the kitchen and the Social Hall, with the Second Floor having Offices that were renovated.

The Educational Wing, was a 15,000 square foot addition that consists of classrooms and a Multi-Purpose Room.
