

Forbes Pride Building Laborer's Fit Out

Forbes Pride Building Laborer's Fit Out

Jendoco Construction Corporation was selected to complete a fast track interior build out of three floors in the Forbes Pride Building for the Laborer's District Council and Laborer's Combined Funds due to their existing location being razed for the new Pittsburgh Penguin's arena.

Working daily with the architect, Edge Studio and The Damianos Group, Jendoco started complete demolition of the first floor and partial demolition of the 6th Floor and 6th Floor Mezzanine prior to contract drawings.

Completion of the entire 30,000 s.f., three floor project was completed in time to allow the Union and the Combined Funds to move in over a weekend, therefore avoiding any interruption of their work week.